

Sales & Marketing Graduate

Rail Tech Group is looking for an enthusiastic and creative individual to develop its company marketing material for both its core business and associated services. The chosen individual will need to be able to work with computer based programs and create ideas that will be used for the company website, marketing purposes and PowerPoint presentations.

The candidate will be part of the Sales and Marketing department itself. He/She will be able to ask and gain information for relevant ideas as a joint team, however delivery of ideas will be expected to be developed on an individual basis.”
